

Quality Policy Statement

Craig and Derricott has been successfully manufacturing and selling low voltage switchgear solutions for over 60 years and prides itself on a reputation for quality, reliability and high levels of service.

Our overriding objective is to deliver best levels of customer service and be recognised as a supplier of choice. We achieve this through continuously measuring and monitoring our performance in all areas of the company and by adopting a Quality Management System compliant with ISO9001 which supports our constant drive to improve long term performance improvement, efficiency and profitability.

This policy statement is communicated to and understood by everyone within the business. We will continue to share, review and invest in the development of the policy according to the changes in market conditions and customer demands.
